TOTC	4/25/2005	:16		Antonio Villaraigosa
102	ENVI	Smoke-free Outdoor Dining Arrives in Los Angeles: Under the Fresh Air Dining Program, which is being launched today in Santa Monica, restaurants are voluntarily banning smoking from their outdoor dining areas. Kitty is joined by anti-smoking ban advocate, Norman Kjono, member of the Board of Directors of Forces International, and she will take calls from our listeners.	TOTC	4/27/2005	:12		Norman Kjono
103	POLI	Sacramento Update: For the first time since taking office, Governor Arnold Schwarzenegger has a job approval rating of less than 50 percent, according to a new poll by the Public Policy Institute of California. At the same time, he has backed off on another key demand of his reform agenda, that state legislative and congressional districts be redrawn by next year. Is the honeymoon period over for Governor Schwarzenegger? Sacramento Bee columnist Dan Walters talks with Kitty about Schwarzenegger's poll numbers and the prospects for a special election. He also clears up the confusion over who is running for what in '06.	TOTC	4/28/2005	:12		Dan Walters
104	SCI	Opportunity is Stuck: "Get used to the current scenery, because we're going to be here awhile," says Steve Squyres, Cornell professor of Astronomy, in reference to the rover Opportunity. All six rover wheels are stuck deep in Martian sand. JPL Project scientist Albert Halderman and his team remain optimistic while working on a plan for freeing the rover. Their first steps will be to simulate the situation on Mars with a mock sand pen and identical rovers. Meanwhile, Spirit rolls on. Kitty gets an update from Halderman.	TOTC	5/3/2005	:05		Albert Halderman
105	IMMIG	Human Smuggling: Nearly 150 smuggled immigrants were found Wednesday at two South Los Angeles locations where they were being held until someone, often friends or relatives in the United States, pays the smugglers for bringing them across the border. The smugglers were arrested and the illegal immigrants were taken to an ICE facility in Los Angeles to be interviewed. What will become of them? And why is Los Angeles increasingly becoming a hub of human smuggling?	TOTC	5/5/2005	:13		Anjelica Salas

106	POLI, IMMIG	Democracy in Immigrant America: Karthick Ramakrishnan is a research fellow at the Public Policy Institute of California. His new book, Democracy in Immigrant America: Changing Demographics and Political Participation (Stanford University Press), examines the voting patterns of America's immigrants. He joins Kitty to discuss, among other things, the impact that this important group of voters could play in the upcoming mayoral run-off election.	TOTC	5/6/2005	:10		Karthick Ramakrishnan
107	LAW	Prostitutes and Mothers: Mother's Day is anything but joyous for prostitute mothers and their children. Studies show that approximately 70% of prostitutes have kids and 89% of them do not have custody of those children. But one organization is helping these women turn their lives around and become true mothers. The Mary Magdalene Project is a nonprofit residential program based in Reseda, CA, that helps women recover from prostitution and reunite with their families.	TOTC	5/6/2005	:10		Ann Hayman, Socorro, former prostitute
108	POLI, OBIT	Miguel Contreras: Top Los Angeles leaders held a press conference today to pledge to continue the work of Miguel Contreras. The late director of the LA County Federation of Labor died on Friday of a heart attack. Last fall, KPCC reporter John Rabe sat down with Contreras, to ask how Contreras was going to get people to vote no on the recall election.	TOTC	5/9/2005	:03
109	FORE	Gregory Townsend and the Rwanda War Crimes Tribunal: Gregory Townsend, a former LA County Public Defender, is a prosecutor for the Rwandan War Crimes Tribunal. Kitty talks to him about the pursuit of international justice.	TOTC	5/12/2005	:08		Gregory Townsend
110	FORE	Lebanon and Syria: Reporter Kate Seelye was working in Beirut when a bomb exploded, killing former Prime Minister Rafiq Hariri. Blaming Syria for the assassination, massive throngs of people took to the streets of Beirut, demanding Syria end it's 30-year occupation of Lebanon. Surprising observers around the world, Syrian President Bashar al Assad, agreed. Kate Seelye followed the retreating troupes from the Syrian/Israeli-occupied Golan Heights border, to the Syrian/Iraqi border. Kitty talks with Kate about this remarkable journey.	TOTC	5/16/2005	:10		Kate Seelye
111	SPO	Globalization of Sports: An American has taken control of Manchester United, the fabled British football (soccer) team, to the disgruntlement of United fans, because, among other reasons, as one United fan says, Americans "don't give a damn about football." As part of KPCC's Think Global week, Kitty takes a look at the globalization of sports. In particular, why hasn't the most popular sport in the world caught on in the US, while baseball, the all-American sport, has become a global phenomenon?	TOTC	5/19/2005	:19		Stefan Fatsis, Antonio Cué, Shawn Lawson-Cummings

112	A&C	Judy Chicago's Kitty City: A Feline Book of Hours: Judy Chicago is one of our most influential contemporary artists and has continually worked to highlight women's achievements through her work, most notably with her installation, The Dinner Party. She now gives a glimpse into her private world through her new book, Kitty City: A Feline Book of Hours (HarperDesign). She shares her passion for felines with our own very special Kitty Felde.	TOTC	5/20/2005	:12		Judy Chicago
113	POLIT/ECON	Schwarzenegger On Tribal Gaming: Governor Schwarzenegger's new proclamation on tribal gaming policy outlines his plans to halt Indian gaming in urban areas. To clarify the policy and discuss the issues, Kitty is joined by Vince Sollito, deputy press secretary for the Governor; Howard Dickstein, an attorney who has represented many Native American tribes; and John Simerman, reporter for the Contra Costa News .	TOTC	5/24/2005	:22		Vince Sollito, John Simerman, reporter, Howard Dickstein
114	ECON	Real Estate Bubble: The bubble is getting bigger, as U.S. home sales surge to record highs. The national median home price rose more than 15%, and here in sunny California, prices paid for homes increased by 17.5%, with a median price of $424,000. Kitty talks with John Karevoll, an Analyst for DataQuick Information Systems, a real estate information company in Southern California, about how long this can last, and what, if anything, might burst the bubble.	TOTC	5/25/2005	:10		John Karevoll
115	POLIT / LAW / CIVIL	Sex Offenders: The small town of Mead Valley has been rocked by angry protests, after a two-time convicted rapist was released into their community. In response, the Riverside County Board of Supervisors unanimously passed an emergency ordinance Tuesday, which tightens the restrictions on where paroled sex offenders can live. Residents and lawmakers alike seem to have an "anywhere but here" attitude, which begs the question, where are these parolees supposed to live? Kitty explores the complicated issue of how to safely reintegrate sex offenders into our communities, in conversation with Dr. Astrid Heppenstall-Heger, Executive Director of the Violence Intervention Program at USC, and Jeff Stone, Riverside County Supervisor.	TOTC	5/26/2005	:22		Astrid Heppenstall-Heger, M.D., Jeff Stone
116	TECH	Voice Interpretation Technology: Everyone knows the frustration of trying to communicate with a company that refuses to put a live person on the phone. But what if the computer on the other end of the line could feel your pain? New breakthroughs in voice recognition technology enable automated phone systems to "hear" whether you're angry, fed up or frustrated – and to know when it's time to transfer you to a real person. USC Professor Shri Narayanan developed the system, which analyzes language and transforms speech patterns into electrical waveforms that can be interpreted by the computer. But the applications go beyond customer service – Narayanan's system could also help children with learning difficulties, bridge cultural differences and deepen our understanding of the art of communication. 117	POLIT / A&C	Plein Air Art in the Capitol: Congressman David Dreier is not only one of the most powerful Californians in Congress, he is also an art lover. He gave Kitty a tour of the House Rules Committee meeting room on Capitol Hill, which houses a fine collection of plein air paintings.	TOTC	5/30/2005	:12		David Dreier
118	LIT / HEAL / E	Toxins and Greenhouse Gases Targets of California Legislature: The California legislature is stepping into the global debate on two issues of public safety -- regulation of potentially dangerous chemicals used in cosmetics, baby products, and other commonly used items, and reduction of greenhouse gas emissions. Mike Montgomery, bureau chief for Capitol Public Radio, joins guest host Patt Morrison with the latest from Sacramento.	TOTC	5/31/2005	:10		Mike Montgomery
119	POLIT, ECON	The State of our State: Today the Public Policy Institute of California (PPIC) will release a comprehensive study of the major trends and forces that will shape California in the next two decades. CA2025 identifies challenges, opportunities and a few surprises about a number of critical issues, including population changes, the economy and workforce, education and transportation.	TOTC	6/1/2005	:10		Mark Baldassare
120	A&C	California's New Poet Laureate: The role of poet laureate is to inspire an emerging generation of literary artists and to educate all Californians about the many poets and authors who have influenced our state through creative literary expression. California has been without a Poet Laureate since 2002, but on May 12, after a lengthy nomination and selection process, Al Young was appointed to the position by Governor Schwarzenegger.	TOTC	6/1/2005	:10		Al Young
121	IMMIG	Local Support for Immigration Reform: The Secure America and Orderly Immigration Act of 2005 by Senators McCain and Kennedy is supported by representatives from various Southern California immigrant communities. Several groups held a press conference this morning to rally in defense of the bill and also to announce a series of community roundtables to discuss immigration policy, scheduled for later this month. As KPCC prepares to kick off a weeklong discussion on illegal immigration, Guest host Jon Beaupre sits down with the Executive director of CHIRLA, Angelica Salas.	TOTC	6/3/2005	:09		Angelica Salas
122	POLI	Villaraigosa's Transition Dream Team: As mayor-elect Antonio Villaraigosa is packing-up from the campaign trail, current mayor, James Hahn, and his administration is leaving City Hall. To ensure a smooth switch, Villaraigosa has assembled an 81-member transition team to help with the move. Former opponent Bob Hertzberg is at the helm, working with such names as basketball great Magic Johnson, former Paramount Pictures chair Sherry Lansing, and Albert Carnesale, chancellor at UCLA. To discuss with guest host, Jon Beaupre what this colossal transition team will accomplish and how it compares to teams of the past is Steve Frates, Consulting Senior Fellow at the Rose Institute of State and Local Government at Claremont McKenna College, and chair of the team, Bob Hertzberg.	TOTC	6/3/2005	:13		Bob Hertzberg, Steve Frates

	A	B	C	D	E	F	G
123	ECON / HEAL	Immigration Reform: What legislation has Congress passed to deal with the issue of illegal immigration? What has worked, what hasn't, and what is on the Congressional agenda this year? Kitty talks with NPR correspondent Brian Naylor for a look at past legislation, and California Congresswoman Linda Sanchez, who sits on the immigration subcommittee, about upcoming legislation.	TOTC	6/6/2005	:14		Brian Naylor, Linda Sanchez
124	ECON / HEAL	Illegal Immigration and the Health Care System: As part of KPCC's week long focus on illegal immigration, Talk of the City looks at the impact of undocumented immigrants on our health system. Kitty is joined by Michael Cousineau, professor in the Keck School of Medicine, USC; Ira Mehlman, media director of the Federation for American Immigration Reform; Jim Lott, executive vice president of the Hospital Association of Southern California; and Reshma Shamasunder, director of the California Immigrant Welfare Collaborative.	TOTC	6/7/2005	:22		Jim Lott, Ira Mehlman, Reshma Shamasunder, Dr. Michael Cousineau
125	A&C	David Sedaris – Master of Ordinary Madness: When the delightful David Sedaris joins Kitty once again in studio, we will all find out if he follows his own fashion advice. His latest collection of hilarious and surprisingly moving tales of daily encounters, Dress Your Family in Corduroy and Denim (Little, Brown) is out in paperback	TOTC	6/7/2005	:11		David Sedaris

127	Law / A&C	Michael Jackson Verdict: The long-awaited verdict is in. KPCC reporter Frank Stoltze joins Kitty from Santa Maria with the latest on the Michel Jackson case.	TOTC	6/13/2005	:04		Frank Stoltze
128	POLIT / ECON	Five Unions to Unite: A coalition of reformist unions are threatening to break away from the AFL-CIO. The Service Employees International Union, the Teamsters, the laborers, the food and commercial workers and Unite Here, are accusing AFL-CIO President John Sweeney of doing too little to organize non-union workers. Kitty gets an update from Kent Wong, Director of the Center for Labor Research and Education at UCLA.	TOTC	6/14/2005	:10		Kent Wong
129	SCI	Earthquake Trigger Effect: In the wake of Indonesia's tsunami and recent global quakes, last night's shaker off the Northern California coast put a tsunami warning into effect from Alaska to the Mexican border. From the United States Geological Survey, geophysicist Susan Hough joins Talk of the City to speak on the geological "trigger effect" that the world seems to be experiencing.	TOTC	6/15/2005	:07		Susan Hough
130	A&C	Paul Theroux: Author Paul Theroux has taken us all over the world with his writing. In his latest novel Blinding Light (Houghton Mifflin), he invites us on another kind of journey -- into the mind of a writer, blinded by his pursuit of the muse.	TOTC	6/16/2005	:12		Paul Theroux

	A	B	C	D	E	F	G
131	HIST	War, Lies and Videotape: As the 10th anniversary of the massacre of more than 7,000 Bosnian Muslims in Srebrenica approaches, the recent release of a decade-old video that clearly shows Bosnian Muslims being killed by Serbs has caused many in the Balkans who denied any wrongdoing to reevaluate their stance. Beth Kampschor is the Christian Science Monitor's correspondent in the Balkans.	TOTC	6/17/2005	:08		Beth Kampschor
132	FORE	Iraq Update: A relentless series of explosions in Iraq have killed nearly 1,200 people in less than two months. Extremists mostly targeted the Iraqi security forces at the forefront of government counterinsurgency operations, both in an effort to shatter their morale and prevent recruits from signing up. Kitty checks in with Bobby Ghosh, senior Baghdad correspondent for Time magazine, about morale in the troubled country and to get the latest from the frontlines.	TOTC	6/21/2005	:09		Bobby Ghosh
133	A&C	Bobby Flay – Grilling for Life: In the world of Bobby Flay the grill is always hot and the ingredients bold. His latest book, Grilling for Life (Simon & Schuster), features healthy - but never dull - recipes for the fire.	TOTC	6/22/2005	:09		Bobby Flay
134	ENVI	Southern California Wildfires: The Southern California dessert of Morongo Valley is the site of the summer's first major wildfire. At least six homes have been destroyed, and 3,022 acres have burned. Kitty speaks with KPCC reporter Steven Cuevas to get an update.	TOTC	6/23/2005	:20		Steven Cuevas
135	EDU	Will Compton Community College Lose Accreditation?: The accrediting commission of junior and community colleges has announced that it plans to revoke Compton Community College's accreditation by the end of the summer. Among other reasons, the commission cited a lack of confidence in the school's board of trustees. The school's academic senate and faculty union have issued a joint resolution calling for the board's resignation, as has Assemblyman Mervyn Dymally. Kitty speaks with several guests on the state of negotiations at the College.	TOTC	6/24/2005	:15		Rita Cepeda, Marshall "Mark" Drummond Chancellor
136	FORE	Local Reaction to Iranian Election: President-elect Mahmoud Ahmadinejad won by a landslide. In the Southland's Iranian community, residents are stunned, and worried that tensions with the United States will intensify. Kitty speaks with local Iranians Prof. Elham Gheyntanchi from Santa Monica City College and Houma Sarshar, a local freelance journalist to learn more.	TOTC	6/27/2005	:14		Prof. Elham Gheyntanchi, Houma Sarshar
137	Envi	Santa Barbara Botanic Garden to Send Seeds to Iraq: Marine Corps Sergeant Viridiana Ibarra-Wilkerson must have a green arm. She aims to restore the Za'faraniyah Botanical Garden near Abu Ghraib prison, and has enlisted the help of Santa Barbara Botanic Garden. Kitty speaks with Nancy Johnson, vice president, marketing & public affairs for the garden, to get the dirt.	TOTC	6/28/2005	:04		Nancy Johnson
